Imron's practice is focused on patent infringement litigation and he is viewed as a go-to trial lawyer. He has litigated and tried patent infringement and other IP matters related to pharmaceuticals, medical implants and devices, DNA arrays, mechanical production assemblies, computer business methods, and financial trading systems.

Clients and leading industry publications describe Imron as a prepared courtroom advocate whose "tenacity sets him apart," who "stands out for his pure advocacy skills," and "is an untiring advocate for his clients' cause." In the 2020 Chambers USA guide, clients commended his litigation capabilities, saying, "He is very technically sophisticated, extraordinarily persuasive and an extremely effective trial counsel."

Client Work

- Hospira, Inc. v. Fresenius Kabi USA, LLC (Successfully represented Fresenius Kabi in a groundbreaking appeal that not only benefited the client's generic version of Precedex, but further developed the "inherent obviousness" case law for generic drugs. For this case, Schiff's IP practice received the Hatch-Waxman Impact Case of the Year award in 2020 by LMG Life Sciences.)
- Fresenius Kabi USA, LLC v. FERA Pharmaceuticals, LLC (Successfully represented Fresenius Kabi in obtaining a rare preliminary injunction in federal district court. The injunction barred our client's competitor from launching a generic version of its patented formulation of levothyroxine, an injectable thyroid hormone. The District Court for the District of New Jersey granted the injunction on the basis that our client was likely to win its patent lawsuit against its competitor.)
- Nexus Pharmaceuticals, Inc. v. Nevakar Injectables, Inc. (Leading Nexus's efforts to address compounding companies who sell unapproved versions of Nexus's FDA-approved ready-to-use ephedrine sulfate product.)
- Medicure International, Inc. v. Nexus Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Favorable settlement of this Hatch-Waxman litigation concerning the drug tirofiban hydrochloride)
- Allergan Sales, LLC et al. v. Sandoz, Inc. et al (Represented Sandoz in brimonidine and timolol

(brand name Combigan) ANDA litigation)
